For your safety and peace of mind...

Does your car get regular checkups?

Hey mom, why is that car smoking?

We took our car for a regular checkup the other day, so it’s fine, right?

It’s because that car is not in good condition and doesn’t go to regular checkups!

Dad goes for regular checkups, but he’s still smoking...

You’re right. I thought he said he’ll quit!

[ Useful tips on regular checkups ]

The parts which your car is consisted of deteriorate and wear out over time. In order to maintain peace of mind and prevent major problems or additional expenses, it is important to have regular checkups and replace parts at an appropriate timing. Regular checkups will contribute to a longer life span of your car. Consult a Suzuki expert at your Suzuki dealer who will maintain your car to the best condition.
