

28 September 2020

Suzuki Wins 2019-2020 Endurance World Championship Title

Suzuki Endurance Racing Team (SERT), a team that competes in the FIM (Fédération Internationale de Motocyclisme) World Endurance Championship, finished fourth in the final round of the 2019-2020 season held at Estoril in Portugal on 26 September 2020. As a result, SERT has won the championship title for the first time in four years, its 16th all-time title.

The World Endurance Championship is a motorcycle endurance race competed with production-based motorcycles that are modified into endurance racing specification. Four races were held for this season, and Suzuki competed with its supersport model, the GSX-R1000.

SERT earned technical support from Yoshimura Japan this season, and won the first round Bol d'Or 24-Hour. After finishing third in the third round Le Mans 24 Hours, the team had a 40-point lead in the championship title. In the final fourth round, SERT finished fourth, which gave the team a total of 167.5 points in the season, an 18-point lead to win the championship title. The title proved the excellent teamwork of SERT and high performance of the GSX-R1000.

2019-2020 World Endurance Championship result of SERT

Round	Race	Date	Location	Result
1	Bol d'or 24-Hour	21-22 September 2019	France	1st
2	8 Hours of Sepang	14 December 2019	Malaysia	4th
3	Le Mans 24 Hours	29-30 August 2020	France	3rd
4	12 Hours of Estoril	26 September 2020	Portugal	4th

Championship point

Result	Team	Point
1st	Suzuki Endurance Racing Team	167.5
2nd	YART - Yamaha	149.5
3rd	F.C.C. TSR Honda France	143.5