Suzuki Motor Corporation has launched the all-new compact SUV Fronx in Japan on 16 October.

The all-new Fronx is a compact SUV of a new genre, based on the concept of an easy-to-handle coupe style SUV. It has a strong, high-quality and sophisticated styling design, along with ease of handling and a comfortable interior.

The exterior features a sleek coupe style with a front styling expressing powerfulness and strong presence and double fenders to create a unique design even in a city full of cars. The interior is decorated with a Black x Bordeaux color scheme and a bright silver paint to produce the strong SUV character while giving it a sporty, luxurious feel.

The packaging has a body size of 3,995mm x 1,765mm x 1,550mm (L x W x H) with a minimum turning radius of 4.8m, making it easy to handle in daily life while ensuring ample legroom in the rear seat. In addition, the use of a high-metered dash inner silencer and sound-insulating walls enhances the quietness of the cabin, creating a quiet, conversation-friendly interior. Comfort functions such as memory navigation featuring smartphone linkage, electric parking brake, and wireless charger are also standard features.

The combination of 1.5L K15C engine, mild hybrid, and 6-speed automatic transmission provides smooth and sporty driving in addition to powerful acceleration.
