

Suzuki Makes Additional Investment in Glydways

Suzuki Motor Corporation (headquarters: Hamamatsu, Shizuoka, Japan; hereinafter, “Suzuki”) has invested in Glydways, Inc. (headquarters: California, USA; Co-CEO : Mark Seeger, Blake Barber; hereinafter, “Glydways”).

Glydways is a growing company based in the U.S. that develops an on-demand autonomous vehicle networks, utilizing compact electric vehicles traveling on dedicated lanes. The company’s mission is to revolutionize urban mobility infrastructure with its system that is more efficient, convenient, and lower costs.

Suzuki made its first investment in Glydways in May 2024. Since then, Glydways has been advancing efforts toward commercialization in U.S. cities and counties such as Atlanta, San Jose, and Contra Costa, as well as national adoption in the Middle East, in the United Arab Emirates.

Looking ahead, Suzuki will further its collaboration with Glydways toward mass production of vehicles by leveraging Suzuki’s vehicle development expertise and its production technologies that enable efficient, high-quality manufacturing.

● Comment from Toshihiro Suzuki, Representative Director and President
“Glydways’ mission—to provide a public transportation solution that stays close to people’s daily lives—resonates strongly with Suzuki’s corporate slogan, “By Your Side.”

Through this additional investment, we will further strengthen this synergy and continue to move forward together toward realizing the mobility of the future.”

● Outline of Glydways

Company name:	Glydways, Inc.
Headquarters:	South San Francisco, California, USA
Representative (Co-CEO):	Mark Seeger, Blake Barber
Foundation:	2016
Business outline:	Development of on-demand vehicle networks
URL:	https://www.glydways.com/